

Andy has been working in the Smart Cities and Buildings market for over eight years. For the past 18 months, Andy has been a Principal Architect and Business Development Manager at AT&T in their Smart Cities group. He supports the AT&T Sales team in promoting the value of smart cities technologies to municipalities and utilities across the U.S. Most recently, his work in Smart Cities has been focused on Intelligent Transportation Systems. Andy started his career with General Electric and worked there for 18 years. Andy held roles in Product Development and Product Management at GE and helped launch technologies in smart cities as well as indoor and outdoor lighting controls.

Andy earned a Bachelor of Arts degree in Physics from Kenyon College in Gambier, Ohio and a Ph.D. in Physics from Clark University in Worcester, MA. He currently lives in Shaker Heights, OH with his wife and two sons.

